

A challenging season – what's your plan?

Global issues and trying weather conditions over much of New Zealand are putting pressure on farm businesses.

This workshop will help you understand the things in your business you can control and give you tips to help you draw up a plan for the rest of the season. We will discuss what banks require if additional financial support is required.

We will also share with each other some ideas for coping when things are stressful.

You will leave with tools to help you plan for your business through to May 31 and a personalised action plan.
