

WORKSHOPS

DAY ONE (SELECT TWO)

W1: Beyond the milk cheque

Presented by Rebecca Warburton

Be inspired by the wide range of possibilities for alternative income streams - explore the options both on and off farm and assess their merits.

W2: Resilience and leadership

Presented by: Rochelle Spillane and Edith Sykes

Sponsored by: Ballance Agri-Nutrients

In an age of increasing digital connection, we are actually losing connections with each other. Great leaders understand and connect with themselves and with others. Through this powerful workshop learn how connection builds resilience and resilience builds leadership.

W3: Clarity, connection and collaboration for environmental change

Presented by: Anastazia Raymond, Fiona Young, Tom Stephens and Suzanne Hanning

Get clarity, connect the dots from theory to practice, and collaborate for good on-farm environmental management across the regions.

W4: Wine and tourism – beyond the scenes tour

Sponsored by: Crowe Horwath

Learn about the history and daily operations of the wine and tourism industries in the Queenstown region. (Full day workshop)

DAY TWO (SELECT ONE)

W5: Where's the Money? Financials 101"

Presented by: Craig Rust

Financials 101 - How to find the money in your business and manage it effectively to create more!

KEYNOTE SPEAKERS

Louise Upston

Prior to entering Parliament in 2008, the Hon. Louise Upston was self-employed as a project management consultant, holding a number of directorships in a diverse number of areas. As the current member of parliament for Taupo, Louise holds several ministerial positions and previously the key role supporting New Zealand women.

Helen Robinson

As the director for social enterprise Organic Initiative, Helen Robinson has a rich executive and governance career, helping her earn the coveted title of Women of Influence supreme winner 2016. With an amazing business story to tell, Helen is a firm believer in encouraging young kiwi women to continue gaining confidence in their abilities to succeed.

Gilbert Enoka

Gilbert Enoka is a matter of fact high achiever who has worked alongside and inside some of New Zealand's most elite sporting campaigns. He thrives on assisting individuals with 'performing under pressure' and has compiled an impressive list of international successes. Sit back, buckle up and enjoy Gilbert's reflections as he shares with us his latest success.

AWARDS EVENING

WE'RE TAKING WEARABLE ARTS ON FARM!

Now's your chance to be environmentally resourceful by making an upcycling accessory to complement your outfit at the Fonterra awards evening. There's no rules here, you're only limited by your imagination! We're looking for innovation, inventiveness, originality - consider this theme your catalyst for creativity! Prizes will be awarded for the very best pieces.

This evening will also feature the announcement of the Dairy Woman of the Year supported by Fonterra.

The winner receives a bursary of up to $20,000 for an approved development programme, professional/business coaching and/or learning experience (or combination of these).

The Dairy Community Leadership Award supported by ASB and Tompkins Wake will also be announced. This award recognises dairying women who make a significant contribution in their local rural community, through leadership and support. The award includes a scholarship to attend the Community and Enterprise Leadership Programme at the University of Waikato.

PERFECT FOR NETWORKING

A fantastic social programme is planned for DWN17 Connect. Enjoy the Ballance Agri-Nutrients welcome function on 11 May, the Fonterra networking hour at the Rydges new bar area Reds and the SealesWinslow breakfast on 12 May, with special guests Michael van de Elzen and Lee-Anne Wann who will share nutrition tips and great recipes.
